FARMERS HOLDING BIG PART OF GRAIN.

36 Pct. of County's 1920 Corn Crop Still Unsold, Survey Shows.

Southern Wisconsin farmers have larger reserves of grain at the present time than during any year previous, except 1915, according to the Wisconsin cooperative crop reporting service report.

In Rock County, Walworth, Dane, Green and other counties the growers are not unloading their grain because of unfavorable market conditions. The policy is general in the middle west. The farmers are hoping for higher prices. The Wisconsin crop report shows that the southern section of the state is largely consumed in 1920.

In Rock county 36 per cent of the 1920 corn crop is being held. In Dane county 34 per cent of the corn and 15 per cent of the winter wheat. These figures are based on a survey made on March 1.

In Jefferson county the figures are: Corn, 40 per cent; oats, 47; barley, 37; and winter wheat, 25. In Walworth county the figures are: Corn, 40; oats, 45; barley, 32; and winter wheat, 25.

In Green county 45 per cent of the growers are holding 45 per cent of their corn; 42 of their oats; 30 of their barley; and 16 of their wheat. In Dane county the figures show: Corn, 31 per cent; oats, 40; barley, 25; and winter wheat, 25. Mix the soda in the water and pour the mixture over the rug. Then turn the rug over, wash it down with water and wring it out. Then lay it flat and the rug should be left until it is dry.

The weekly report of Mr. Haskin shows that besides the rug questions answered, 414 questions were sent to the Gazette. 75 miscellaneous bulletins were sent out and 41 letters given away.

Woman's Is Loveliest at Forty; French Countess Offers Proof

Paris—"Woman is loveliest at 40," according to the expert opinion of Countess Andre de Tavernay, a French woman, who heads up what is called the French Charm club. The countess herself admits to 41 and looks 25. There are any number of American women, famous for their beauty and charm, who are 40 or even older. Notable cases are to be found, particularly among actresses and society women and they are always used as examples because they have been photographed so much that they are familiar to almost everyone. Of course, many of these fair women are lovely, but they will not admit being 40. How are there, who confess to their real age. Fanny Ward, who seems to have found eternal youth at 46, Valli Valli, the well known musical comedy and movie picture actress, is just on the doorstep of 40, being in her thirtieth year, and Charlotte Walker is surely a lovely bit of feminine charm although 43.

It is such women as these who are called "the loveliest of all" by the Countess de Tavernay. Painters of voluptuous subjects—nymphs rolling on green lawns, bacchantes sprawling in pagan festivals or Courts of Neptune sunning on golden sands—have always been reproached because they partially gave their models. Exactly! To do this, such painters enlarge roundly, exaggerate curves and arrive at an unearthly charm by giving the nymph of 17 a whole set of outlines which she ought not to have for 10 or 15 years yet. What is this but glorifying the woman of 40? The empty face of 17 is added to flatter the man of 40 who generally buys that picture.

"As for accidental purity of line," she concluded, "it is not lost at 40, but at 24. The story of Eberlein is classical. Struck by the pure outlines of a model of 23, the sculptor noted down her measurements. Five weeks later in verifying them before a confidant not a single one of these measurements coincided with the girl from whom they were taken—the academic anatomy had bulged all along the line, toward the rounder beauty prized by comic mortals."

The French club members do not meet to discuss their interests like other clubs, and really do not know each other as members. The club has an extraordinary series of bottles for the members which tell the secrets every woman should know about beauty, charm, attraction and companionship. No man has ever read one of these books. One reason for the French Charm club is the great dearth of marriageable men in France since the war. 3,000,000 marriages or married ones having been lost, the club is a place where a woman can find a husband.

Taking 25,000 Partners

WITHIN a few weeks the employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) will be given an opportunity by the Company to buy shares in the capital stock of this organization under conditions which are distinctly favorable to the employee.

This stock is to be paid for from the employees savings running over a period of five years.

At the end of that time it is believed that the men actively engaged in conducting the business of this corporation will be possessed of a substantial interest in the business.

This is but one other step which the Company has taken to make mutual the interests of those who are engaged in its activities and those who by the investment of their capital have made these activities possible.

It is this spirit of fairness ever dominant in the minds of the management which has enabled the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to gather an organization of enthusiastic, efficient, thoughtful and conscientious men and women who are devoting themselves to the betterment of that complete cycle of service which the Company is rendering the public.

To give you the service you are entitled to receive and which it is the Company's wish to render, every employee realizes that infinite pains must be taken with every step leading up to the transaction.

The Company believes that by making the active employees partners in the business, another step has been taken to achieve that perfection of service toward which we are striving.

COURT BILL HAS LITTLE EFFECT HERE
Probable passage by the legislature of a bill to increase Rock county civil actions, from $1,000 to $2,500 will have but little effect on the number of cases, according to Judge H. L. Maxfield.

"The only recommendation I have to make is that there be no distinction between the powers and jurisdiction of the Beloit and Janesville municipal courts," said the judge.

A motion picture is on foot in Beloit to have that court clothed with power to try civil actions up to $20,000 and have jurisdiction up to first degree murder.

GOFF APPOINTMENT IS FAVORED HERE
Satisfaction is expressed by Janesville attorneys over the probable appointment by President Harding of Guy D. Goff, Milwaukee, as assistant to Attorney General Daugherty.

Goff is a personal friend of Judge H. L. Maxfield.

CITY IS PRETTY "DRY" SAYS IHRIG

U. S. Officer Declares Janesville Is 100 Pct. Better Than Madison or Beloit.

Janesville is 100 per cent better than Beloit or Madison as far as the enforcement of prohibition is concerned, according to George Thirig, federal prohibition officer for the western district of Wisconsin. There are comparatively few violations here, he stated Thursday, in paying credit to the police department for work it has done in enforcing the "dry" laws.

"Beloit and Madison are bad on account of the large foreign population," he stated. "Italians are making whiskey and white men are selling it in these towns."

Mr. Thirig leaves Thursday night for Superior, where the federal grand jury has been called. Post office cases are being heard this week, he said. Liquor cases are due to come up next week and is expected at least four Janesville policemen will be called as witnesses in two cases listed on the calendar.

Two girls were working in a shop several years ago. The question of saving money came up, but these girls said they could not spare anything from their small earnings. But just as a joke one of the girls said: "I dare you to start a savings account and see who can save the most." So they started.

A few years later one of these girls quit working to get married. She was surprised to find $600 in the bank to her credit—a very welcome sum at such a time.

The other girl is still working and she continues her visits to the bank each week. Her account is well above $2,000 now and it is growing fast. Her interest money each year is more than her first year's savings amounted to.

Perhaps this story will suggest a plan that will work as well for you.

A Sweetheart at Thirty

The Story of a Woman's Transformation
BY MARION RUBINCAM

Synopsis of preceding chapters: At 22 Aunt Edith Haines looks 50, and is considered by her family and the village to be a hopeless old maid. The family consists of a critical sister-in-law, Esther; Jim, Edith's brother, and three grown children, Laura, James, and Violet. Edith is taken from this hopeless life by Violet, who wants to go to college. Edith gives up her own little legacy and goes to the city to join her.

They are awake to the possibilities of life—Edith begins to make herself young again and pretty. Violet turns into a charming young woman. Edith is in love with Bud Pearson, of whom her family disapproves. Edith falls in love with Francis Meade, Bud's employee.

Bud falls in with a crowd of unsavory men, and when he is robbed of some money he was carrying for his firm, everyone believes him guilty. Edith would like to help him, but when the hearing of his case comes on, she is heartbroken. When the trial comes up, Bud is caught in a lie and things look bad for him.

CHAPTER XXVII

THE CLIMAX

"I'll never forget the few days following that Christmas. The snow was coming when Esther and myself came perilously near a quarrel as particularly clear to me.

For it was another milestone in my career. Before, she said, I had never answered her as I did. Indeed, for some years while I was living with her, I would scarcely have dared to disagree with her—even mentally—while she was standing in and telling her she was wrong! Well, I could not have done it.

But now I was out of my shell. I had made myself, and I was happy. I had sufficiently developed myself, in a comparatively short time, to the point where I could take my place by the side of such a man as Francis Meade. And I was happy—happier than I ever thought it possible to be.

I wanted to give some of this to Esther. "Why shouldn't she do as I did?" I looked at her—she had a certain complacency, a certain stubbornness about her. I believe she liked being what she was. "Jim won't ever consent to moving home," she said firmly. And in her bones was that curious pleasure which I never could understand.

Some women who are well meaning and charitable and "good" have the incomprehensible quality of being utterly without pleasure in giving pain to others. It is because they have let bitterness and disappointment cut into their souls, and where they have missed something sweet in life, they grudge it to others.

I had seen this in Esther before—but if Jim, who hated the Pearsons, intended to make things unpleasant—and if Esther intended to back him up, why, it only made the whole affair harder for us.

"She might marry without his consent," I answered. "After all, she's no longer a child. She's the greatest century. Jim thinks sometimes we are back in medieval times."

"She might, but I doubt it," Esther said. "I'm very sure, but she is not, too, and I don't think she would do anything directly against her father's orders."

I wondered. Violet's feminine charm was really a thing of great ingenuity—but the girl was very much in love, highly romantic, and quite apt to run off and marry Bud in spite of her family.

"I want to send her through college," I told Esther. "I haven't the money myself now, but Francis likes her very much, and he will gladly stand the costs of it. Only—I want to adopt her."

It came as a surprise to me, this statement of mine. I had thought that I and I were so close to each other in our relationship of aunt and

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON.
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I live in St. Louis and am visiting my sister in New York on a business trip. Our father is a minister and we are of an old, respected, educated family; but my sister is a terrible puzzle to me. Father tried to influence her not to marry when she did, a young fellow far beneath her, no education or family. She is artistic and an accomplished musician. I may as well confess it, I am jealous of her ability to take life as she does.

She has been married 15 years, is 33 years old, has six children, the eldest an invalid, does all her own work, finds time to be active in church and social circles, and still has perfect health and still looks like a young girl. Her husband is poor. I married according to father's wishes, a well-to-do business man, have everything financially, but I have miserable health and no children. I never heard sister complain except once. The other day she called me into her bedroom, but her arms around me and said: "I shouldn't have married; I don't know why, but he never makes over me or kisses me. He has compelled me to live my life alone until I have accepted the attentions of an older man. I love him, but I intend to stay with my husband and be sweet and good to my little children."

"Why is it I have everything and try to do right, but she has nothing, but keeps young and good to look at? Everyone loves her. Her children are perfect. I am happy on the crumbs of a man's love, who probably doesn't mean what he says to her. Always a smile on her face and all the time in her heart. I am glad of all this. I love her."

What Shall I Do?

Answered BY VIRGINIA PAGE

A Babe in the Woods

"Dear Miss Page: I am a girl 14 years of age, and I have been going with a boy of the same age for about five months. I like him real well, but he does not seem to realize it. He also seems to like me very much. Should I tell him that I love him? I would also like to know if a girl of my age should let a boy kiss her or not. —Babe."

You should not. Absolutely and most definitely. You shouldn't be going with a boy for five months. You shouldn't tell him that you love him. If you did he'd probably expire in the flames of his own blazes, and anyway you don't—just live him a lot. And you shouldn't let him kiss you. If you want to know why, write me again and send a self-addressed envelope with a stamp stuck in the corner, and I'll tell you why. I think that if he seems to like you very much, Babe, he must realize that you like him real well, and that's quite enough. You aren't ready for lovers yet. Dear—just tell your friends and pals and playmates for a while, please!

Can Anyone Furnish This? "Dear Miss Page: Would you please tell me where I might get hold of a comic book called 'Lure of the Electric Moon'? I have seen it in your paper and I would like to see it. I will be grateful. —V. T."

If any of our Column-club members has a copy they will let V. T. have, we will both be grateful.

Personal Replies Required. If "Lonely Jean" and "E. E. P." will send me their names and addresses on envelopes, with stamp

The Letters of Tessie and Joe

DEAR TESSIE:

Even overlooking the fact that he makes a bum out of the contents of the ice box every time he comes, I don't think that Irish coo ought to be encouraged to visit your Finnish maid. To come right down to the point, if he keeps on calling I wish you would make a personal inspection every half hour or so while he's in the house to make sure that my private stock is safe.

That reminds me, I had a beautiful dream last night. I dreamed that Congress passed another amendment to the constitution cancelling the eighteenth. But I woke up without even the satisfaction of having a headache.

And another thing. If Hilma sings Finnish songs to the baby it's up to you to counterbalance the effect by coming back at him with a song in English. Of course I realize your singing voice never was a thing of beauty and gets less and less that way with each passing year. In other words, if the kid has to have something wrecked, I'd prefer it to be his sense of harmony rather than his patriotism.

I dropped into the zoo on Sunday and as I watched the monkeys flitting from tree to tree I made up my mind that no matter how the baby looks when he crawls he's not any more than 50 per cent descended from monkeys. That lets my side of the family out. Further than that I can't say because I always was a great believer in a man not butting in on his wife's family affairs.

Well, I see Harding has nearly finished appointing his cabinet without my help. It just goes to show, Tessie, that if a man just keeps his head and doesn't get over on much and trusts his subordinates—you know a president is really the servant of the people—why everything will go on fairly smoothly.

Your loving husband,

JOE.

MOVIE LEOPARD BREAKS LOOSE IN BAGGAGE CAR

El Paso, Tex.—The story of a leopard, a fidgety train crew and a brave colored man came to light here the other night when a train from Los Angeles bearing the leopard arrived. When the train crew were changed at Tucson, Ariz., it was discovered that a leopard had escaped from his cage in the baggage car and was in full possession there. He had broken from his cage while the baggage men slept, and when the latter awoke he broke from the car, riding the remaining distance into Tucson in an adjoining car.

The new crew at Tucson, when apprised of the beast at large in the baggage car, refused to enter it. Then Jim, a negro roustabout, came shuffling along the platform, and some one told him to jump into the baggage car and unlock the trunk and mailboxes destined for Tucson. Jim obligingly complied, while the onlookers awaited expectantly for a sudden emergence. All they heard was a "Get back in jail, you and were amazed when the trunk and mail were removed from the car without further ado.

Jim recognized the leopard as one he had seen in the movies, and on that acquaintance they got along harmoniously.

Overseas Steamer to Be Rebuilt at Manitowoc

Manitowoc—Contracts have been closed for the rebuilding of the steamer Nevada, built here for the Goodrich company at a cost of $750,000 and later sold to the Russian government, at the yards of the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Corporation and the steamer will be brought here as soon as the St. Lawrence river is open so the boat can get passage from New London, Conn., where it is now waiting its trip to the lakes. The Nevada was recently purchased by the Peru Maritime Line Steamship company. The Nevada recently arrived at New London, Conn., from overseas, and a report two weeks ago said that a mutiny had occurred and that the police had to board the steamer to quell riots when it docked at New London.

Collection of Old Rare Books Shown in Green Bay

Green Bay—An interesting collection of rare books, some of them printed several hundred years ago, is on exhibition at the Green Bay museum. The exhibit, arranged by A. C. Neville, president of the Green Bay Historical society, is one of the largest in the state and includes volumes on almost every subject.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

BY EDITH MORIARTY

Mrs. Rosalie Loew Whitney of Brooklyn is to be appointed a member of the industrial board within the new state labor department of New York state. Her selection has been practically determined upon by Governor Miller. There will be two other members on that board, both men. The pay for her services will be $8,000 a year and the term is for six years.

The chief duties of the industrial board are two in number: (1) The application and modification of rules of the labor law; (2) administration of the workmen's compensation law, adjustment of claims, supervision of agreements, settlements, etc. In fact, it will take over all the quasi-judicial functions formerly exercised by the whole industrial commission.

New York state has been very liberal with appointments of women.

SOME FIGURES
What American women will spend on jewelry, "beautifiers" and feminine fancies generally during 1921 would pay either half the interest on the national debt or the entire pay proportion for the navy, including new ship construction.

More than $462,000,000 was spent for candy during 1920, the larger part of it from the pockets of women. During 1920 the number of cigars sold in the United States was 50,400,000; in 1913 the number was 34,000,000.

During 1920 the government received $25,000,000 in taxes on women's cigarette cases and other articles of jewelry.

During 1920 the importations of precious stones were valued at $72,000,000, the value of pearls being $7,000,000.

Face powder during 1920 was sold to the extent of 500,000,000—enough to cover the state of New York.

Ushers Who Carry Bags at Station Deplore Economy

St. Louis.—The traveling public has been struck by the wave of economy sweeping the country, according to ushers at Union Station here, whose only wages are "tips" received for carrying baggage. The daily income of the ushers has been reduced from about $5 to $2 a day as the result of the "carry your own baggage" policy of travelers. It was said.

Harding Greatly Enjoys Throwing Horse Shoes

Lake Worth, Fla.—President Harding has played "farm-yard golf" and greatly enjoyed it, according to his secretary, George B. Christian, who in a letter to the Lake Worth Horse Shoe club announced that Mr. Harding greatly appreciated the distinction the club had conferred upon him by making him an honorary member.

Citizens, no doubt including burglars and hold-up men, spent $46,447,234 in 1920 for firearms, upon which the tax item was over $1,500,000.

More than $23,117,000 was spent for tennis rackets, golf clubs and other sporting articles in the first six months of the present fiscal year, as compared with only $22,500,000 for the entire preceding year.

In the last fiscal year $152,112,142 was spent for articles made of fur, mostly apparel for women.

The great energy-food has three flavors!

Which Karo do you like best?

MANY who prefer a rather sweet syrup choose Red Karo, as it gives foods their fullest natural taste. Because it looks like honey, many like it as a spread for cakes and waffles.

Red Karo is a wonderful syrup for sweetening in cooking and baking. Karo-made cakes, cookies and raisin bread are perfectly delicious.

But as a table syrup—with a thick heavy body, that pours nicely, and yet does not soak into the breakfast cakes—you may perhaps choose Blue Karo or Green Karo. Green Karo, with its delicious maple flavor, is made with the highest grade pure maple sugar from Vermont and Canada.

The secret of nutrition in Karo

Perhaps you did not know that you cannot live long without Dextrose. Most foods you eat—such as bread, starchy vegetables, and all forms of sugar—have to be changed into Dextrose before your system can use them as energy foods. Karo is rich in pure Dextrose.

So Karo may almost be said to be a predigested food. These are scientific facts, supported by the very highest medical and food authorities.

Your Protection

Do not be deceived by cans containing syrup that might look like Karo. The name "Karo" is on every can of original Karo—look for it and be assured of full weight, care and highest quality.

Mandell Wins Handily from Hagen Before 1070 Fans

ROOKS AND CLARKE WIN; ROY MEYERS TAKES KAYO ROUTE

GAZETTE DECISIONS.
 Windup—Sammy Mandell won from Johnny Hagen (10).
 Semi-final—Walter Rookes won from Jack Reagan (8).
 Second preliminary—Omaha Kid Schaeffer knocked out Roy Meyers in second round.
 Opener—Eddie Clarke won from Jeff Williams (4).

Enthusiastic crowds speak better than anything else for the success of a sporting event. Ten hundred and seventy-one boxing fans declared with emphatic voices that the Janesville Athletic club put across a whole of an opening flake show. Further, the officials of the state boxing commission went on record as stating that the fight between Mandell and Hagen was the best they had seen in the ring of the local Elks lodge is a model for the entire Badger commonwealth.

With the house jammed to the rafters and a fair number of women scattered here and there, the fight-hungry fans saw a card that showed one knockout, a speedy exhibition of slugging, a little more and a complete demonstration of scientific boxing work. It was a 24-round show that should bring the crowd back for the second round here on April 27. Detroit and Rockford were represented by over 100 spectators who came on special interurbans.

Mandell Forces Fight.
 In the feature event, Sammy Mandell of Rockford once again proved that he is a flash. He handily received the decision over Johnny Hagen, the banam Irishman from like Bernstein's Chicago stable. The smiling schoolboy forced the fight from start to finish. He got seven of the 10 rounds without the shadow of a doubt. One, the fourth, was a draw. He took the first on points and was awarded the seventh by a shade.

Although Referee Walter Houlchen notified the boys to do more mixing in the three rounds preceding the last, it was not Sammy's fault that there was so much "gymnasium" work. Shooting left jabs almost at will into the face, shoulders and body of Hagen, he kept the Windy City lad at a safe distance, and then permitting him to close in, Hagen appeared to realize that he was outclassed and toward the last bout his whole efforts to staying.

Hagen Announces Crowd.
 All that Hagen seemed to have was a grasshopper jig, so ludicrous that whenever he pulled it, the house went into an uproar of laughter. The dance steps did not phase the Rockford lad. In fact more than once, they left an opening for Sammy to pour his hammer-like blows into Hagen's extended face.

Mandell is not a hard hitter, but he kept clearly in mind the fact that Hagen holds a sleeper in his right hand. If the chance is offered him to land it, he takes it. But Mandell is a boxer, covering perfectly, dodging cleverly, feinting smoothly and getting in his taps deftly.

Referee Takes Charge.
 The fight was forced by Sammy from the start. He carried the opening stanza. The second and third rounds, he handled in swift precision with Hagen landing two blows. In the fourth, both mixed it fairly well neither gaining an advantage. Hagen several times came dangerously near to putting over the kidnap punch in the fifth, sixth, while warding off the telling offerings of Mandell. In the seventh, Hagen put up his best scrap, but Sammy showed a better one. In the eighth, both exchanged a series of lefts, and right jabs after Houlchen ordered them to show more fight. In the ninth, Hagen was commencing to wear while in the tenth both went at it heavily. The error was Mandell's third finding the route to Johnny's breadbasket.

Rookes Whips Reagan.
 With the sweet taste of two snap-py preliminaries still hanging, the fans were treated to a classy semi-final in which Capt. Walter Rookes, El Paso, Ill., middleweight, took the bacon from Jack Reagan of Rockford. Due to a severe cold Reagan was severely punished. The Forest City boy, it was Reagan's first bout. Three times he took the full count of nine, and once went on his knees. He bounced up for more. With blood streaming from his nose and a cut under his right eye, he continued through to the finish of the eighth round. Five minutes were positively given to Rookes, the first and sixth he took by a shade, and the second was a draw.

Meyers Is Drugged.
 Perhaps the man who gave the most satisfaction to the fans was Omaha Kid Schaeffer, another Chicago battler. Fighting like a bear-cat and landing heavy, short lefts to the body, he put Roy Meyers, Janesville welterweight, to sleep with the K. O. in the second round, landing a sickening punch just below the heart. It was the second time Meyers was down—he took the nine count in the first—but the blow did its work. Entirely outclassed, Meyers stood for punishment enough for six men.

Clarke Trims Williams.
 In a peppy, clean scrap, Eddie Clarke, Janesville panzerweight, was handed the decision over Jeff Williams of Beloit in the four round opener. Smaller in stature and outweighed five pounds, Clarke shot a wicked left that rocked Williams. Both boys were groggy at the finish. All rounds were Clarke's, the second going to him by a shade.

East Milwaukee Street was lined with fight fans long before the doors of the Myers theatre were thrown open. Late purchasers of pasteboards held up the line until almost 8:30, delaying the matches, which were scheduled to start at 8:15.

Elks' Boxing Show a Model For State Says Inspector

"This boxing show is a positive model for all clubs in the entire state of Wisconsin," was the way Joe Steinhilber, member of the state boxing commission and former wrestling instructor at the University of Wisconsin, praised the Janesville Athletic club Wednesday night. "The Elks and Rockford were represented by over 100 spectators who came on special interurbans."

"I have been all over the state as referee and inspector for the commission," he said, "and I have yet to find a club that has been in the game for any length of time which can come up to the method with which this is handled. Every detail of the law has been lived up to perfectly. We expect to see a few little faults in a club's first year, but there was not one in this. Every detail of the law was first class, the method of handling the fight was as perfect as it could be, the seating arrangements were excellent and the ring rigged up in top-top shape."

"With Madison, Rockford and Janesville so close to each other, I expect to see these three cities work out a boxing circuit that will make possible the exchange of fighters and provide fine matches."

Despite the disbanding of the league, towns formerly a part of the circuit will have city teams and will be out in the running for matches with their old rival towns. The local talent will be used and developed.

Lake Shore Stinks.
 President Hedding of the Lake Shore league stated Wednesday that, due to this same condition of affairs, there is a possibility of the Shore wheel going under this season. He stated that many of the players are demanding such high prices that in order to meet the demands the managers would be losing a great deal of money every game. Knowing this would be impossible some have already started agitation to drop the league for the coming season. Prevailing, however, is going to do all within his power to keep the old standby league in existence.

Blue Light Five to Play Milton Quint, Thursday

Those who will go up are Thomas Cunningham, John Austin, Wilbur Austin, Elmer Switzer, Bernard Valley, Henry Schwieger, John Sheldon, Stuart Scoble, Edward Clarke, and James O'Connor.

The Miltons will play the Lightweights here Monday night.

Tanks Engage Delavan, Thursday
 Company I, tank corps, plays a rubber game with the Delavan, big five at the armory here Thursday night at 7:30. Each team has one victory over the other to its credit.

Edgerton Boys Get U. W. Honors
 The tank team will number Ryder, Keup, Zeman, Culey, Sheridan and McDermott. Hager and Cullen will be in uniforms for the guardsmen. A dance will follow.

Rollie Williams, well known Janesville basketball player, whose home is at Edgerton, and Clarence W. McIntosh, Edgerton, are among the members of the University of Wisconsin basketball team who will receive gold medals and "W" emblems. The team that tied for first in the Big Ten will be banqueted March 25 and the varsity captain elected.

The U. S. Amateur Hockey association voted to invite college teams into competition for the national championship. The Brandon team opens play with the University of Toronto Saturday for the Canadian amateur hockey championship.

Edgerton Takes Great Pride in Huge Plant of Highway Trailer Co.

Three units of the Edgerton Highway Trailer company and Continental Axle company, Edgerton, Wis.

The first building is where the trailer and motor truck axles are manufactured.

The next unit is the present assembly plant of the Highway

Trailer company, founded and built mainly by Edgerton capital. The third building is the mammoth new assembly unit recently completed. The new offices are to be placed in this section.

The company started a few years ago in an abandoned vehicle factory.

Through the medium of highway trailers the nation is being carried to the four corners of the globe, south Africa, Europe, Asia and the south sea isles.

It was an idea, a vision, that gave birth to the Edgerton Highway Trailer plant, now more than a $1,000,000 corporation. When James Menhaff and C. W. Clement started building the highway trailers they led in a field which was going to take a predominant part in the development of motor truck transportation.

From the barn like structure where the building operations were first started in May 1917, the Edgerton Highway Trailer company has grown until now it is housed by three modern factory buildings, two for the trailers and the third for the making of axles. The old buildings had been used for a wagon works, which was swept aside by the development of the motor truck.

New Unit Built.

The firm has now about 500,000 feet of floor space. The second unit for trailer building which is 550 feet long and 165 feet wide, has just been completed. It is a mammoth structure with all modern facilities for assembly work and shipping. There is a spur track running inside the building with capacity for 40 freight cars for loading. New offices are to be equipped in the new building.

The firm is planning ahead for big things for Edgerton. Property is owned and there are plans for the construction of a gigantic foundry for castings and forgings. The all-steel construction of the trailer bodies demands extensive punch press work for shaping the bodies of channel and beam iron.

In floor space and bigness the trailer company rivals the Samson.

Keep Up Production.

The company is now employing about 25 men in manufacture of trailers and 25 men in the making of axles. Officers express confidence of rapid and safe growth for the development of good roads and the extended use of powerful motor trucks has placed a heavy demand for trailers. Shippers using trucks are now operating great fleets in inter-city freight work. For the trailer doubles and triples carrying capacity.

"Good roads have made the trailer feasible and practicable," said E. L. Moorman, sales manager of the company. "We have had so many orders for trailers that we are now realizing that the motor truck is a trade revival."

Will Employ 400

Under normal conditions the plant employs about 200 in the trailer plant and the same number in the axle department. Motor trucks say the engineers of the company are being modified to develop more power. Now for truck users are now realizing the worth of traction power of their trucks.

The biggest boost of the Edgerton firm was during the competitive tests of the government. The Edgerton Highway Trailer was accepted by the government without modification. Army orders were numerous and the trailer was used in Europe considerably. Along with the orders of the government, the Edgerton company also developed trailers for municipalities. Success has followed their developing and building of a garbage tip

At the State Capital

Madison—Cadet Col. J. Calvin Wolfe, '21, Madison, general chairman of the 1921 military ball of the University of Wisconsin, and his partner, Pearl B. Stewart, '22, Baltimore, Md., will lead the grand march of the ninth annual military function to be held April 8.

Col. Wolfe is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity and was advisory chairman of the 1920 military ball. He is a member of Seaboard club, president of the Cadet Officers' association, and vice president of the South Dakota club. Miss Stewart is a graduate of the Harvard school of dancing and has studied ballet dancing in New York. She was in Union, Vol. 1 last year and is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, the Physical Education club and the Southern club.

Taxation problems cannot be solved by "passing the buck" or by procrastination, on the part of the present legislature in the opinion of Nils P. Haugen, for 20 years state tax commissioner. He feels that the move on the part of the assembly to dodge revenue raising measures until a committee can investigate methods of acquiring state funds will accomplish little except to further complicate the present situation.

A tax on general property for state purposes is suggested by Mr. Haugen as the one best way to raise the needed revenue. Governor Blaine has declared that he would veto any proposal for raising the general property tax. Commissioner Haugen in reply to the present state income tax law which was adopted in 1911, and during his 20 years' service on the commission has been an advocate of taxation on intangible property.

Surplus proposals are crude methods in his opinion. The progressive rates themselves might better be raised than to tack on additional tax on incomes which reach a set limit, he said, stating that an 8 per cent limit instead of the present 6 per cent would probably serve the purpose of increasing revenue without harming industry.

It was pointed out by Mr. Haugen that the income tax is more of a local revenue raising measure than a state tax. Seventy per cent of the returns go to the cities, 20 per cent to counties and only 10 per cent to the state which bears all cost of administration.

During the past year the state collected an unprecedented amount from income, $5,000,000, of which the state received $500,000. Only $1,000,000 is counted on for the current year. The Governor's surplus proposal would raise $5,000,000, according to the statement of its author.

Repeal of the personal property office against income taxes is recommended by Commissioner Haugen as a means of raising additional revenue, rather than a surplus, but here again he explained that it would mean only an additional $400,000 to the state, although $1,000,000 would be collected.

Repealment of the income tax returns would result in exactly the same condition declared against by Governor Blaine when he said that there should be no increase in the general property tax. It was stated, should the division be made on the basis of 40 per cent to the state, 40 per cent to the cities, and 20 per cent to the counties as proposed in the Caldwell bill, then it would be necessary for cities to levy additional mill taxes to meet the loss in revenues which would accrue from the fact that the state was receiving only a slight and slight increase for state purposes would clear up the present beleaguered situation in this opinion. Industry, he declared, is not leaving Wisconsin because of the tax rates.

Wisconsin's proposed industrial rehabilitation law is nearing completion in the senate committee on education and public welfare. Changes suggested by the industrial commission in the rules governing applications and administration of the educational features have delayed the committee report.

The act, as drawn, includes every physically handicapped person, regardless of whether the handicap is due to industrial accidents, was present at birth, or due to war wounds. Blind, epileptics, and others who, according to E. A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the state board of education, are not provided for in the federal industrial rehabilitation law, also are included. The federal soldier's training act included provisions for the training of blinded soldiers, according to Mr. Fitzpatrick, but other blind were barred by the industrial act.

George C. Dell, of Milwaukee, who lost his sight in an accident several years ago, informed Mr. Fitzpatrick prior to the Wisconsin law. Mr. Dell was not blinded in the war, as was recently reported.

Unemployment insurance will be considered by the senate committee on judiciary during the week of March 20. Senator Huber, sponsor of this measure, has announced. Prof. J. R. Commons, of the University of Wisconsin, is author of the proposal, which would provide compensation for men who cannot obtain work.

The bill of Senator Huber regulating sweatshop labor is, among the 164 bills which are ballasted for hearings during the week by all committees. His proposal would require employers of home workers to first procure permits, which can be revoked for cause.

State departments are inducing employees of one department to desert their position for work in another department that pays more money or offers better accommodations. Senator Claire H. Hays, of Wisconsin, charged before the senate state affairs committee considering a bill which would prohibit any person in public service to transfer from one position to another without the written approval of the state board of public affairs.

Hidden Fortune Found In Antique Furniture

Vienno—The hidden fortune in a piece of old furniture has turned up in Vienna with unusually dramatic setting. One of the many families who live by the gradual sale of antique family possessions decided to sell a very old desk. The daughter and a friend were removing it to a waiting wagon when the well-known secret apartment opened at the proper cue and disclosed a pile of gold coins. In the course of nearly all Europe and some of ancient date, they represent 5,000,000 present Austrian crowns.

George C. Dell, of Milwaukee, who lost his sight in an accident several years ago, informed Mr. Fitzpatrick prior to the Wisconsin law. Mr. Dell was not blinded in the war, as was recently reported.

Thousands of Fowls Frolic at Lake, Free from Guns of Hunters

Parts of lakes and streams of southern Wisconsin, particularly Geneva, Delavan, and Koshkonong lakes, are literally black with aquatic fowls, geese, brant, and ducks. Considering the time of year, this is considered without a precedent.

At Delavan lake, Walworth county, there were at least 1,000 geese at one part of the lake. Their calls could be heard a mile from the stream. Huddled together, they formed a thin black line for more than 200 yards in the ripples of the lake, half a mile from the shore. Small flocks of the geese came in at different times to join the main band.

Feed During Night.

During the evening they fly out to the marsh districts or prairie feeding grounds. They return after sun-up to remain in perfect safety near the middle of the lake. The ducks at Lake Koshkonong are astounding in their tameness. Farmers have to chase them away from the domestic flocks. There are teal, mallards, canvasbacks, and wid-rumps in the countless flocks huddled together in the open waters.

The number of ducks, geese and brant rivals pioneer days. Hunters who have shot at Lake Koshkonong when the lake was the best duck spot in the west state they have not seen so many aquatic birds in the last 40 years, and never at this time of year.

Did Not Go South

Residents near the lakes report that a vast number of geese remained in and around the lakes all winter. The vast majority of the birds did not go very far south. The open winter keeping them around southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois. Geese could be found every day at Koshkonong, even when the lake was frozen solid.

Hunters take this as indicative that the federal and state laws against spring shooting have brought about a countless increase among aquatic birds.

Spring Exposition

March 18th and March 19th

Springtime with its blue skies flashing sunshine and glad spirit of awakening life is reflected in the sprightly fashions for Milady's Wear at this joyous season. To mark this gala time at formal opening from March 18 and 19th, this store will display the latest modes for Spring as interpreted by designers of wide repute. Choosing a becoming new wardrobe at this time is delightfully simple and pleasant.

The New Fabrics

Of an indescribable loveliness are the colorings and texture of the new silken fabrics readily adjustable to gowns graceful and charming. In Tricotines and Twills one has the foundation for smart suits. Swiss Organdies, Voiles, Dimities and Fine Linens are irresistible in their beauty and suggestion of spring days.

The New Ribbons

Summer frocks are of a fineness that is enhanced by a ribbon decoration. Lingerie too is a combination of laces, silks and ribbons. For sashes and bags and millinery purposes the collection of ribbons in Silk, Satin and Velvet is wide.

The New Gloves

Fashion decrees that for the very smartest effect the gloves must be white or of a very light tone and long. So Milady wears them white or very light and long.

Silk Gloves display tuckings and embroidery to break the monotony from the elbow to the wrist.

Spring Suits

To choose a suit this spring is pleasant for one can find models in tricotine that are delightfully simple yet smartly tailored and trimmed with fine bindings of Grosgrain. Embroidery, Braiding, Sashes and Fringes allow few suits to escape without their distinctive touches while on some fine tuckings and stitching give a more severe appearance. Skirts retain the slender silhouette.

Spring Dresses

Fashions partiality to taffeta as a basis for frocks is one of the outstanding features of this particular exhibit. There seems to be no end to the chic effects she has accomplished with it. Very appealing are the beaded and braided numbers, others bouffant at the hips, muchly ruffled or plain. To prove that it is all embracing this display shows also plenty of Crepes, Meteors, De Chines and Cantons.

Spring Coats

The day of the light weight coat is here and certainly no one will regret its invasion of fashion for it is universally becoming developed in a wonderful variety of cloths from Serges and Tricotines to the Velours, Polo & Botivar and to a vast range of styles. Little sports models of Polo and Velours, more pretentious models in wonderful soft Velours, following very much the lines of the wrappy models and then the wonderful wrap coats with elaborate embroideries. Surely in this display there is much charm.

Childrens Spring Apparel

No flower in a garden was ever more beautiful than the blossoms which bloom in colorful profusion on youthful styled Organdie and Voile Frocks. For the girls, fashion also favors frocks of Gingham with sashes and embroideries. But even if one's frock is pretty, one cannot do without a coat, so fashion has provided hosts of adorable juvenile coat styles. Included are pastel tinted garments of Silk Poplin and dozens of sturdier models in such practical colorings as Brown and Navy Blue.

The New Furs

Flattering Furs with which to complete your new costume. A luxurious fur scarf thrown over the shoulders or a trim choker clasped tightly around the throat will be the making of many a springtime costume.

The New Hosiery

There never was anything so lovely or so diversified as the many fascinating styles of new hosiery. Clocks are developed in embroidery, drop stitch and lace, forming smart accessories for a street frock or suit.

Spring Blouses and Skirts

One may select blouses exquisite in the fineness of fagoting lace insertion and hand run tucks in Georgette, Mignonette and Crepe de Chine, smart over blouses have been developed; gay embroidery and applied designs adorn them, making a smart costume when combined with a smart skirt.

In Separate Skirts slender lines prevail, although entire pleated skirts or panels of pleating, give added width in many models. For sports and general wear nothing has quite the popularity of the plaid skirt.
